A Word to Republicans.

The hope of the party lies in the expansion of a substantial Republican press. The Republics who read or otherwise help to support a Democratic paper to the exclusion of one of its own party newspapers is untrue to the Republican cause.

Unanimously subscribed to by the National Republican League.

THE LEDGER

is the largest daily paper printed in Maysville—most of the columns measure their length.

It gives you more reading matter than any other.

It is sold at the same price as any other Maysville paper—one cent a copy or 25 cents a month, delivered by carrier or sent by mail.

Now is the time to subscribe—suppose you give it a month's trial.

Circulation More Than 1,000 Daily.

There are only six aspirants for the seat of the late Senator KENNA of West Virginia. "Most as many as are after Mr. CARLISLE's old shoes at Frankfort."

The Governor is still offering a reward of $500 for the horse and rider who shall be caught at Bowling Green. As the good citizens of that place quietly follow the fellow, not even this zero weather is likely to stimulate any one to go in search of him for such a small sum.

A bill will be introduced in the Arkansas Legislature to authorize the creation of a new State prison, costing not less than $1,000,000, convict labor to be utilized in preparing the granite for the building. As Arkansas is a red-hot Democratic state, workmen have here an object-lesson of Democratic love for the honest toiler.

The Commissioner of Agriculture says that the Kentucky wheat crop for the year 1892 was the largest ever raised in the state. This is not in accordance with the howls of the calamitists before the election. They tried to make people believe that the country was on the verge of ruin—and it appears that a great many folks believed it.

According to a recent decision of an English court a man has a good case at law against a clergyman who persuades his (the man's) wife to go to church, instead of staying at home and cooking his dinner. Now, if we could only have a judicial determination as to whose duty it is to make the first of these cold mornings there would be something for a married man to live for.

In 1889, the last year of Mr. CLEVELAND's administration, our imports actually exceeded our exports of merchandise by $2,730,277. Democrats pointed to these figures as conclusive evidence that Protection was strangling foreign commerce and predicted that the McKinley bill, if passed, would finish the bill. But the Republican Congress went ahead and passed it, with the result that the adverse balance of 1889 was superseded in 1892 by a favorable balance of $30,875,598. Yet the cry of stagnation is still kept up by the Free-trade parrots.

France is all right, and a commission to draw up a plan for a World's Fair in 1900 is attending to its work just as if nothing had happened.

At the meeting Tuesday of the house rules committee, Mr. Burrows did not call up his resolution asking for an investigation of the whiskey trust, and consequently it was not taken up, though Mr. Reed held its author being a philanthropist, and not a statesman.

THE KHEDEVE.

Egyptian Monarch Brought to Terms Quickly by England.

He Attempted to Run His Government to Suit Himself.

England Could Not See It That Way, and Gives Him Twenty-Four Hours to Reconsider His Resolution: The Young Khedive Does as He Pleases.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—A hurriedly convened cabinet council was held Tuesday afternoon. The unexpected call to a conference caused a decided surprise at the clubs, where it was conjectured that action was to be taken in regard to the sudden spurt of independence displayed by the khedive of Egypt in changing his ministry without having first obtained the consent of the British government. The British representative at Cairo, declines to recognize the new ministry, and the khedive refuses to make any changes in it.

A long telegram from Mr. Cromer, the British representative at Cairo, was received at the foreign office. Soon after the receipt of the telegram, the British representative at Cairo, declines to recognize the new ministry, and the khedive refuses to make any changes in it.

At 8:15 o'clock the summons for a cabinet council at 9 o'clock was issued. So entirely unexpected was such a summons that the greatest difficulty was experienced in getting the members of the cabinet to assemble. Telegrams and messengers were sent in every direction, and it was not until some little time after the hour fixed for the cabinet to assemble, when Mr. Hershell, the lord chancellor, was not present, he having started earlier in the day for Windsor to visit the queen.

The council met at 9 o'clock, after resolving unanimously to treat the khedive with the utmost firmness. The ministers decided to send him a distinct manner that his position as the ruler of Egypt depends upon the good will of Great Britain, and that the British government will place no recognition of the reactionary ministry he has appointed.

It is believed that Mr. Cromer's message attributed to the khedive's action to concerted Russian, French and Turkish intrigues.

Official confirmation was given Tuesday evening to the report regarding the action taken by the cabinet on Egyptian affairs.

Cairo, Jan. 17.—Mr. Cromer, the British representative in Egypt, today informed the khedive that Great Britain expected to be consulted by the Egyptian government in all important steps proposed to be taken by it, and especially in changes in the ministry.

The British government, he added, never sanctioned the appointment of Fakhri Pasha as president of the council. It is a well known fact that Fakhri Pasha is opposed to the English occupation of Egypt.

Subsequent to the interview with Mr. Cromer, the khedive held a consultation with Nubar Pasha and Kias Pasha.

HAYES DEAD.

The Ex-President, Thought to Be Improving, Grew Worse.

Neuralgia of the Heart Was the Cause of the Fatal Ending.

Three Times Governor of Ohio, The President of the United States, The President of the National Republican Convention of 1877 Reverted by His Death.

FREMONT, O., Jan. 18.—Ex-President R. B. Hayes died at 11 o'clock Tuesday night. He had been ill for some time, and his death was expected.

During the day, Mr. Hayes passed the long winter with more comfort than he was able to do at any time previous since the attack Saturday. Dr. F. S. Hibbard was with the ex-president, and spent the night at his bedside.

The sickness had been watched during the day and evening with much interest by the friends of the general, and it is generally the case that many conflicting rumors were afloat.

The members of the family passed the night quietly, resting, and the wife remained with his father almost constantly, only leaving the house a short time during the day.

Rutherford B. Hayes is associated with the Fremont savings bank of this city and spent part of the morning at their place of business. In the afternoon he came down town, stopping at the telegraph office, presumably to answer some of the many telegrams that were constantly pouring in upon them.

During the afternoon Miss Lucy E. Elliot Keeler, a relative of the Hayes family, arrived from Cleveland.

A personal friend of the family gives the following statement of the illness and death of the ex-president.

On Monday, January 9, Gen. Hayes went to Columbus on State university business connected with manual training. He was accompanied by his son, stopping with his niece, Mrs. Mitchell.

Thursday morning he left Columbus for Cleveland, where he was to spend the night. He was accompanied by his son, stopping with his niece, Mrs. Mitchell.

ROYALIST REVOLUTION.

The French Government Will Soon Strike a Blow.

Paris, Jan. 18.—The government will soon strike a blow. It is reported on excellent authority that there is now ample evidence of a royalist conspiracy, and the arrests will be made at an early date. The conspiracy has been hatched in London and Madrid, and the count of Paris, instead of having been expected to see the emperor of late for the royalist cause, has been unusually lavish. He is not himself managing any details, and it is not desired that he should, but his leading representatives are more active than ever.

Royalist influence and funds have much more to do with the recent activity in revolutionary circles in Paris, and it is reported that much of the applause of the extremist speaker at the banquet at Vauxhall was furnished by paid royalist claqueurs. The royalist plan appears to be to overthrow the republic by means of a greater rapidity, the means are, and to foment and promote disorder in the hope that the French people will turn to the count of Paris or the duke of Orleans for rescue or protection.

The headquarters of the royalist-socialist intrigue just now is said to be the Maison du Peuple, and it is the political police, through their spies, have acquired much valuable information as to the designs of the enemies of the republic.

The Maison du Peuple is a modest structure on the heights of Montmartre, which was built by the people and for the people. Like the Bourse du Travail, of which it may be called a second edition, it is intended for the purpose of free and gratuitous discussion of everything concerning the working classes, but both have degenerated into hotbeds of revolutionary propaganda.

TRAIN ON FIRE.

Forty-Nine Russian Soldiers Burned to Death.

Strange and Fatal Accident Between Siatouk and Sawara.

While Going at Full Speed Flames Break Out in the Foremost Car—For Some Unaccountable Cause the Engine-ner Did Not Stop the Train.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 18.—Half a hundred soldiers were burned to death or killed and many were wounded in a frightful railway accident on the line between Siatouk and Sawara Tuesday morning. A train composed of several cars loaded with recruits was on its way to Sawara at a high speed. Flames burst from the forward car and swept backward with greater rapidity.

The entire train was soon afire. The engineer for some reason failed to stop the train until he had run a great distance. When the fire swept upon the recruits leaped from the windows or doors, not a few were unable to get out of the car and were roasted to death by the flames.

The train was almost consumed and the unfortunate who could not get out were beyond recovery. Nothing was left of the train but the trucks and no bodies were recovered. The officer in charge of the train saved himself by jumping after the confusion had somewhat subsided he called the roll of his men.

Forty-nine were found to have died, twenty were terribly burned and hurt, several fatally. A hasty investigation seems to establish the fact that the fire was caused by some of the men in the train, who, while skylarking, upset the stove. The engineer will be held to a strict accountability for not stopping the train sooner.

THE MELANCHOLY WHICH SHADOWED LINCOLN'S nature is mentioned by the Marquis de Chambrun in the article found among his papers after his death, and printed in the January issue. "After a moment's inspection," he writes, "Mr. Lincoln left with an impression of vague and deep sadness. It is not too much to say that it was rare to converse with him a while without feeling something poignant. Every time I have endeavored to describe this impression, words, nay, the very ideas, have failed me. And, strange to say, Mr. Lincoln was quite humorous, although one could always detect a bit of irony in his humor. He would relate anecdotes, seeking all ways to bring the point out clearly. He wittily laughed often at what was being said to him or at what he said himself. But all of a sudden he would retire within himself, then he would close his eyes, and all his features would at once bespeak a kind of sadness as indescribable as it was deep. After a while, as though it were by an effort of his will, he would shake off this mysterious weight under which he seemed bowed, his generous and open disposition would again resurface. In one evening I happened to count over twenty of these alterations and contrasts."

ABOUT TWO OR THREE MONTHS AGO I PURCHASED from you a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, put up in De Kalbs, Iowa. Such good results were obtained from its use that I inclose $1 and ask that you send me two bottles by express.
